

Buried at Sea.

Mrs. Harold D. Masters, the former Miss Margy Phleger, has received official word that her husband, Ensign Harold Masters, who was reported missing since September 22, was killed and honorably buried at sea following the battle of Salerno. Ensign Masters was assigned to the USS Savannah and had been in active duty since May. He was a graduate of the Illinois State Normal School at Normal. He received his basic naval training at Northwestern University, being commissioned on March 7, 1943. He was married to Miss Phleger on March 7. They spent a month together in Washington, D. C., before he left for sea duty.

The Edwardsville Intelligencer (Edwardsville, Illinois)
Tuesday, November 16, 1943, page 8

